EASTERN HOTEL,
GATEWAY STREET.....BOSTON,
Opposite Eastern Railroad Depot, and in immediate vicinity of the Fitchburg, Lowell, and Maine Depots.
THE Hotel has been refitted and furnished in splendid style by the proprietor, and is conducted upon the European plan. The upper stories are occupied for sleeping apartments, and are splendidly furnished with all the modern improvements. This Hotel is finely located for those wishing quiet and comfortable, and at the same time convenient for business, as it is but a few minutes walk from the State House.
Those persons, or persons traveling for pleasure, will find that this House affords every convenience or luxury that can be desired, and, the Proprietor, assisted by a competent corps of attentive servants, will use every exertion to render the stay of those who favor him with a call, as pleasant and comfortable, as possible.
P. A. SIMMONS, Proprietor.

THE HATCH HOUSE,
Main Street, Bangor, Maine.
This House has been thoroughly repaired, refitted, and refurnished throughout with New Carpets, Furniture, Beds and Bedding, and a reception for the reception of company, under the charge of the subscriber.
It is a large, commodious, and well furnished House, situated on Main Street, near the centre of the town, and within a short distance of the Steamboat Wharves and the Depot of the E. K. Railroad, to and from which coaches are always in readiness to convey passengers.
The table and attendance is strictly first class, and particularly to those visiting the city on business or for pleasure, renders it one of the most desirable Houses in the city.
Connected with the House is a large and commodious Stable, in charge of a competent and faithful hostler.
By strict personal attention to the comfort of his guests, the proprietor trusts to receive a liberal share of patronage.

Professor Humphrey's
CELEBRATED
Homœopathic Medicines.
For Families, Travellers, and others
THESE Medicines have been carefully prepared, with the view of supplying families and others, with a safe and effectual remedy against all the more common diseases which exist in every day life. The accumulated experience of twenty years practice in all the principal cities of this country, and in Europe, has enabled Dr. Humphrey to offer to the public one of the most complete and reliable Homœopathic Medicines ever before offered for sale in this country. Each vial contains a different kind of Medicine, and is numbered to correspond with the numbers in the Book of Directions, which is also numbered to correspond with the Medicines, and directs in a plain manner the disease for which each Medicine is to be taken, and the number of doses to be taken. Also, directions for preparing the patient's food, and for the general treatment of the sick. Also, directions for preparing the Medicines for use, and for administering them. Also, directions for the treatment of Chronic Diseases, and for the use of Medicines in such cases. Also, directions for the treatment of Acute Diseases, and for the use of Medicines in such cases. WHALEBONE SKIRTS.
THE only merit of a Whalebone Skirt is to give a proper, graceful and elegant form to a lady's dress. All things are supplied, the article is entirely worthless. The Ladies, by referring to Frank Leslie's Gazette of Fashion for April, will notice that Mr. C. HOLMES has, from actual experience, been successful in producing the most desirable article, and that their increasing sale evinces the universal appreciation of the ladies. They are light, pliable, and easily adjusted; and the only skirt which is equally adapted to the parlor, the tree and the crowd, the dance or the piece of mechanism, and in our opinion are in the opinion of thousands of ladies now in Bangor. Those, the most reliable goods of the kind in the market. We were the first to introduce the Whalebone Skirt, and from our experience in the manufacture and sale of these goods we have found that all kinds of cotton cord, and nearly all kinds of wood, and all starched goods cannot be used interchangeably, as they will not recover the shape when pressed out of shape. We consider a as worthless, of whatever material made, unless there is positively no [illegible] and pliable. Being, and at the same time yielding and pliable, to keep the dress in proper shape when the wearer is [illegible] from the [illegible] to [illegible] from the [illegible] and [illegible] recover its proper place when pressed out of shape, and are as [illegible] in manufacturing that they will not roll or curl when wet, and will [illegible] to wash without injury. The publishers [illegible] almost all worth to a goods, as the market from our goods have become popular and are entirely known, has been flooded with a stock of all kinds, and put together without form or consistence for any other object but to sell, and of course are called Whalebone Skirts. These imitations, in their efforts to profit by our reputation, have gone so far as to copy also at exactly our trade mark upon their goods.
Please Notice—Every genuine article stamped E. & H. Johnson's Improved Skeleton Whalebone Skirt, and may be found by the dozen in many of the largest Jobbing Houses in New York and Boston, and wholesale in the principal Dry Goods stores.

ARNOLD'S COMBINED

FOOT-STOVE, CANTEEN,
AND NURSE-LAMP.
ALBERT NOYES having purchased the exclusive right for manufacturing and vending in Penobscot county, the above valuable invention, is now prepared to offer them to the public.
As a FOOT STOVE, it answers an excellent purpose as it can be easily heated and will last one minute to warm and dry the feet on the coldest winter weather, and will be found to be an indispensable article in travelling. It is heated by alcohol, or fluid lamp, the flame of which is protected from irregular heat.
As a CANTEEN, it answers all the best purposes, and is less likely to be upset, or get broken, and can be used as a camp lamp with equal advantage.
As a NURSE LAMP, and in cases of a sick, it is of great advantage in keeping drinks medicines warm, besides giving the light desired, and for cooking in small quantities. For making tea, &c., it will be found very convenient, as a quart of water can be boiled in fifteen minutes, and a flat iron heat in the same length of time.
In fact the variety of purposes to which this new apparatus can be put may be readily conceived by every one. No further description is required as no one can misunderstand its general utility. To say a thing more respecting its value, applies to a hundred purposes would just be telling what our readers can all see at once for themselves.

Biography of Mr. Sumner.

Charles Sumner, the distinguished Massachusetts Senator, was born in Boston, January 6th, 1811, and is now forty-five years of age, and in the full vigor of superior manhood. He is a man of commanding presence, with a tall, athletic figure and dignified bearing, which would awaken attention and command respect in any assembly of distinguished men anywhere.

With all his dignity and firmness, he blends a frankness and affability of manner which inspires admiration and wins affection.

The qualities of the man are indicated by those of his ancestry, some account of whom we compile from various sources. The Grandfather of Senator Sumner, Major Job Sumner, was a native of Milton, Massachusetts. He entered Harvard College in 1770, but when, after the battle of Lexington, the students were dispersed and the College edifice was converted into barracks, he joined the continental army, in which he continued until peace was declared. He was second in command of the American troops who took possession of New York, on its evacuation by the British, Nov. 25, 1783, and was also second in command of that battalion of light infantry which rendered to General Washington the last respects of the revolutionary army, when, on the 4th of December, 1783, at Frances's Tavern, New York city, he took leave of his brother officers and comrades.

Major Sumner died on the 10th of September, 1797, and was buried, with military honors, in St. Paul's churchyard, New York city, Alexander Hamilton was one of the pallbearers at the funeral. Major Sumner's tomb is described as follows:

"This tomb contains the remains of Major Job Sumner, of the Massachusetts line of the army of the revolution; who, having supported an unblemished character through life as the soldier, citizen and friend, died in this city, after a short illness, universally regretted by the acquaintances, on the 10th day of September, 1797, aged 37 years."

Charles Pickney Sumner was the only son of the foregoing, and the father of the present Senator from Massachusetts. The graduation at Harvard College with distinguished honors in 1799, and studied law under the guidance of the Hon. Josiah Quincy; and though he never rose to extensive practice, he acquired a reputation for the accuracy and extent of his legal lore. He early attached himself to the democratic party, and was throughout a firm and consistent advocate of its principles.

He served for many years as sheriff of the county of Suffolk. Through life he was characterized by the possession of his scholarship, his integrity and the urbanity and grace of his deportment. He was often styled the "last gentleman" in Boston. His memory will be ventured in his descendants as long as eloquence, literature, science and moral purity are esteemed among men.

Charles Sumner received his early education at the Boston Latin School, was graduated with brilliant reputation at Harvard University in the year 1830, and soon after commenced his professional studies at the Law School in Cambridge. He was a favorite of the late Justice Story, and, at his instance, was appointed Reporter of the American Jurist. Admitted to the Boston bar in 1833, he was at once recognized as a young man of rare legal attainments, of singular devotion to study, and of elegant classical attainments. He became reporter of the United States Circuit Court, and after commencing practice, had three volumes of reports attest his assiduity and great acumen at that office. During the absence of Professor Greenleaf and Story, he lectured, at the request of the Faculty, for three successive winters, to the classes in the Cambridge Law School. He won golden opinions from the students who enjoyed his instructions, and enlarged the bounds of his professional reputation.

Intending to devote some years to the study of European institutions, he sailed for England in 1837. He was specially introduced to the best circles of society, was received with marked distinction by the members of the Bar and the Bench, and was admitted to a degree of familiar intercourse with the highest intellectual classes, at that time rarely enjoyed by private gentlemen from this country. While residing in Paris, he formed an intimate acquaintance with Gen. Cass, then United States Minister to the French Court, and, at his request, prepared a defence of the American claim of the north eastern boundary. This able argument was published in the American journals. He remained abroad for three years, and, upon his return again occupied the chair of lecturer at the Cambridge Law School, and after the death of Justice Story in 1845, was unanimously pointed out by public opinion as his successor. He was declined, however, to the office, and accordingly the appointment was announced.

Though decidedly in political opinions, Mr. Sumner shuns aloof from all active participation in the political strife of the day, except the movement for the annexation of Texas. Although his tastes and habits were averse to public office, he consented to become a candidate for the United States Senate, successor to Daniel Webster, and was elected to that post by the Massachusetts legislature in 1851.

Since that time his career has been well known to the country, and it has become honorable as it has conspicuous. Distinguished for the soundness and moderation of his political doctrines, for the force and brilliancy of his eloquence, for the various accomplishments in literature, for the purity, truth and kindness of his disposition, and for general courtesy of his manners, he has won the friendship and admiration even of his political antagonists, and to his private life no [illegible] can be a probably without an enemy. National Republican Nominations.

FOR PRESIDENT,

JOHN C. FREMONT,

OF CALIFORNIA.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT

WILLIAM L. DAYTON,

OF NEW JERSEY.

FOR GOVERNOR,

HANNIBAL HAMLIN.

How the Insults is received at the South.

It is the purpose and policy of a portion of the political press in Maine, the Bangor Journal and Bath Tribune to represent the present political issues as quite limited and confined exclusively to a few matters regarding the local legislation of Maine. These papers and their readers, wish to draw away the minds of the people from the great struggle in which the people are engaged between nationalizing Freedom or Slavery, to the smaller, and in comparison insignificant matters of State policy, in order that the sham Democracy, with which they in common with the slave power, are in alliance, may succeed in electing James Buchanan to the Presidency.

We have before us a letter written by Hon. Kenneth Rayner of North Carolina, in which are many things to which we cannot agree, but in which he untends very clearly the fact of the crisis before the country, and the means by which the crisis has been forced upon the country. We place here his views upon the present state of the country, for the purpose of showing how greatly these premises to which we have referred to represent the matter; and also of showing that the charge is false, even by the testimony of a Southern man, that abolitionists have made a sectional issue; and still further to show the ruinous suggested to be the entire removal from power of the sham democratic party.

Mr. Rayner says:—

"No man of any sagacity, and observation can conceal from himself the fact, that the present condition of the country is alarming. At both ends of the Union, the "slavery question" is rising. All other questions pale, insignificance before it, in the public estimation. Amendments, all the delicate questions involved in our foreign relations—all important questions of internal policy—all for the time, seem to be ignored by the public mind. The phantom of discord, ere long, by the refusal of the Missouri Compromise is striking through the land, frightening men from their propriety. In the dissensions which now distract our country—in the names of violence and opposition which prevail in Congress—in the blood which is flowing in Kansas, and which, like that of Abel, is crying from the ground to Heaven for retribution—in the shocks and concussions which are testing the strength of the Union—we are realizing the sad consequences of the most unwise and unfortunate measure, the repeal of the Missouri Compromise. Its authors knew the value and our suffering country is now reaping the whirlwind. From the day of the consummation of that measure, I have ever believed it would prove to the nation, what the wrath of Achilles did to Greece," the direful spring of woes unnumbered."

He further says:

"And even now, when our unanimity is writhing in the throes of convulsion, the political gamblers, will direct and control this issue party, and that playing with the question of Missouri Compromise repeal, as a counter in this game where the stake is nothing short of the Union itself. They are still trying to cheat the people of both sections by telling the South, that the measure extends the area of slavery beyond the line of 36deg. 30min.—and telling the North, that it does away with the guaranty that it will enable them hereafter to interpose against the South in that area.

The only hope, human sagacity can discern, for the end of slavery agitation, is the decision, by the power that now controls it, as a means of perpetuating their dynasty. Until this is done, the country will have no peace.

Such are the views of a calm observer, at the South, in the midst of the discussion of slavery, and which institution he professes to defend, but he patriotically rises above his selfish interests, and he condemns the project to extend slavery because of the injury which the project inflicts upon the country. He sees the perils which environ the country and acknowledges the necessity of the people repudiating the Cincinnati platform and the candidates of that party, which has created it.

A friend has shown us a letter received from L. J. Andrews of Michigan, in which he states that the Hooker Knitting and other Buchanan men in Maine are ready for Buchanan. If this is true, our hope of securing the election of Buchanan by the vote of Maine they are greatly deceived and doomed to disappointment.—We unhesitating and seriously say to the Doctor and to our Republican friends in Michigan and elsewhere, that they may fully, entirely and completely rely upon the vote of Maine being given for Fremont and Dayton. We will not now state the probable majority, but it will be sufficient for all practical purposes and enough beyond for them all to rejoice over.—The revolution in Maine will be complete and glorious. Rely upon this, for the result is unmistakably shown in the changes which have already taken place and are still manifesting themselves.

Military Excursion and Drill.

Yesterday morning the Light Infantry of the City, the Veazie Rifle Company, and the Bangor City Cadets, united in a military parade and proceeded by a special train of cars for an excursion to Newport. They were accompanied by the officers of the Regiment, and by several members of the Gratton Guards without uniform. The day was uncommonly favorable for the occasion, and our military friends entered heartily into the business of making the most of it. While waiting at Newport for the incoming train a drum was offered on the depot platform, which the Veazie Rifles interested themselves in by a lively Evening passed off in the most satisfactory manner.

Drowned.—On Sunday, in Newfoundland, near Dramman, a child in the family of Thomas Dow, aged four years.

Slander against Fremont.

The Bar for Democratic, or rather, charged Col. Fremont with being a slaveholder. The charge has been made by others, and has been repeatedly denied, and shown to be false. The Democrat cannot be so feeble as to suppose we are not to be satisfied that it is a false, but it is conducted by an office holder, who feels bound to sing the same song whose meaning is false, and for the purpose of exciting a prejudice against Fremont, he gives his readers to understand, (for he is too cunning to make the direct charge) that Fremont is a slaveholder. John Charles Fremont is not a slaveholder but a friend of Freedom. He was born in poverty, and thirteen as a strand boy in a lawyer's office, educated by charity and the scanty earnings of his own hands as teacher, and from manhood to the present of California, having only the mere patronage of a Lieutenant, on which was charges his own support, and that of his mother with two children. It is utterly impossible that Fremont could ever have been worth enough, up to his settlement in California, to be a slaveholder. Since that time, every body knows that he has been not only an avowed, ardent, energetic and successful friend of Freedom, but a victim of slave power. Besides this, we have direct and conclusive testimony from an unimpeachable witness.

The Hon. Hannibal Hamlin of Maine, in his speech at the ratification meeting in this city, said:

"When embarking on his western tour, Col. Fremont was asked if it was not his intention to purchase a slave, as a contest for his wife. His reply was: "I never owned one before in my life," and while reason holds its sway in my brain I never will." I defy any one with the most acute attention, but that wife must sympathize with all our hands, rather than with the first robber in human flesh."

As it appears by the authority of Hon. D. P. Thompson of Vermont we state that Col. Benton (Fremont's father-in-law,) said in his mother-in-law's days.

Col. Benton is a Presbyterian, and up to the time of his death was a member of that church.

Convention in the Sixth District.

We learn that the Legal Democratic Convention of Columbia was very fully attended, and was marked by great harmony and strong enthusiasm. Mr. Pike of Calais is represented as having done himself great honor by his very handsome manner in which he withdrew his name as a candidate for Congress before the convention, Hon. Stephen C. Foster was unanimously nominated for Congress, and the determination was manifested that the Sixth District should not again be misrepresented by either one of his kin. All branches of the opposition to the extension of Slavery are now united on Mr. Foster, and his election by a handsome majority is as certain as that the eighth day of September shall come, and the election be held. We have been promising for several days a full account of the proceedings but it has not yet come to hand.

From Lawrence's Mail.—The Montgomery (Alabama) Mail, of May 1st thus notices the murder of Keating by the Cincinnati Delegate and member of Congress, Herbert:

Shooting Affray.—A few days ago Mr. Herbert, (formerly of Tuscaloosa,) in this State, M. C. from California, was attacked by a mob of waiters in his room, in Washington. He promptly put a bullet through the head of one and then surrendered to the authorities. There is no doubt he acted in self-defence.

"From what we can learn, that 'dark waters' of further ahead were conjured that they can see coasts, and not gentlemen in disguise. We hope that the law will teach them prudence."

This is a fair sample of the estimation in which free white laborer is held by the slaveholding oligarchy. Now contrast the above with Col Fremont's opinion of the war like of Free Labor:

"FREE LABOR THE NATURAL CAPITAL WHICH CONSTITUTES THE REAL WEALTH OF THE GREAT COUNTRY, AND CREATES THAT INTELLIGENT POWER IN THE MASSES ALONE TO BE RELIED ON AS A BULWARK OF FREE INSTITUTIONS.—John C. Fremont's Letter of Acceptance.

Sabbath School Excursion.

The teachers and pupils of the several Methodist Churches in Hampden, Orrington and Bucksport, took an excursion down the river yesterday in the steamer Dirigo, which left immediately after her arrival from Portland. The steamer arrived at about ½ past eleven o'clock at the rendezvous and was widely packed with the company on board. It proved to be a highly satisfactory and pleasant occasion, and gave great delight to a great number of little people.

We are indebted to Mr. Stevenson, the Printer for specimens of his "Dahlias, now in full bloom."

Dyer's Bank Note Plate Examination.—We have received from the Author, who is now canvassing the State of Maine, a copy of this sterling work, which gives a good description of the genuine notes of every denomination, of all the banks doing business throughout the United States and British North America.—This work together with Dyer's Semi-monthly Detector and Coin Chart, will be found of great use to all whose business requires them to handle much money; hence they are indispensable.

Another Sale by Real Estate.—House on Main Street occupied by W. H. Gadman, sold to Lorenzo Taylor for $1150,00, yesterday.

The Homestead of David Hill, Esq., on High Street, will be sold at Auction on the 12th day of August next. See advertisement of R. S. Prescott, Auctioneer.

Lincoln, July 14, 1856.

Mr. Editor:—Rich'd Hopkins and Wm. Grave appear to have robbed and set on fire R. Hopkins' store in Lincoln, were arrested at Mattawamkeag Point by Joseph Wheeler and brought to this place last evening. They are to undergo an examination before Justice John Smith.

Mr. Van Buren now says.—The Eagle & Advertiser does not pester the Sentinel. The Richmond Whig in answering the latter, makes use of the following language:

"Though a man whose life is a libel upon republicanism is spoiled by the Democracy, by intelligence and suffering of the South, that has [illegible]

Wendell Phillips against the Union.

Wendell Phillips and his abolition associates in this state have at length declared themselves openly against the Union. They have declared that the Union is a curse, and that the Constitution is a curse, and that the Union and Constitution must be destroyed. Wendell Phillips has declared that he would not vote for Fremont because he was in favor of the Union, and that he would not vote for Buchanan because he was in favor of the Union. Wendell Phillips has declared that he would not vote for Fremont because he was in favor of the Union, and that he would not vote for Buchanan because he was in favor of the Union. Wendell Phillips has declared that he would not vote for Fremont because he was in favor of the Union, and that he would not vote for Buchanan because he was in favor of the Union.

The Right Man come at last, or the Progress of Medicine.

It was with no ordinary pride and satisfaction that we lately read the address of an introduction to one of the most eminent men of the age, the English physician, Prof. Thomas Holloway, a gentleman who has done more for the advancement of medical science than any other that can be named, not excluding such renowned "scients" as Abercrombie, Hall, Clark or Majendie. The Professor has been recently traveling in the United States, having visited this country for the purpose of establishing a depot on the sale of his medicines in New York. It is true that this public have long been familiar with his great reputations, but partly owing to the heavy duty imposed upon imported medicines, and partly to the unwillingness of physicians and druggists to advance the interests of a professional brother, whose superior knowledge and skill threatened to cast their own pretensions into the shade, the sale, although great in America of his wonderful remedies has not yet equalled the enormous demand, which exists throughout the whole of Europe, Australia, the whole of the East Indies and most other parts of the civilized world. It was for this reason that the Professor, a few months ago, determined to make New York the location of a great American depot for the preparation and sale of his medicines, rivalling in extent and usefulness his liberated establishment in London, which, as all travellers know, is one of the "institutions" of the city. We have reason to congratulate ourselves, and especially our sick and afflicted fellow citizens, upon his felicitous resolutions.

In proceeding step by step on strictly scientific principles, the Professor at the early part of his career, attained to a discovery, which placed him above all competition in the triumphs of the healing art. He noticed how much of the boasted medical knowledge of the present day was imperfect, and how little was really known to the laws of human physiology. Continuing his investigations, a happy thought struck him, like an inspiration, and he found the cause of every disease, no matter what its nature and character, in the blood. The blood has vitality in itself; it is indeed in the language of the Scripture, "the life of man." If that stream of existence is impure, how can the human being be otherwise than feeble, exhausted, emaciated and filled with various forms of disease? To purify the blood, and keep it pure, is virtually to banish sickness from the earth. Here then was the secret of the sufferer. The poor invalid, despairing on recovery, may go forth into the world a regenerated and strong man. Profess or Holloway's treatment examines all our ailments, whether they are of the stomach, liver, kidneys, lungs, heart or skin, he refers their origin to a vitiated or poisoned condition of the blood, and by cleansing it, leaves the system in perfect health. Knowing this, we feel no fear in expressing our friends as well as from our own, we have but a Samaritan duty to the people by a cordial recommendation of Holloway's Pills and Ointment—the former for internal derangements of the system, the latter for external application in wounds and sores, will have created every where a unfailing remedy.—N. Y. Atlas.

There are few men so able and so honest, so says the Lewiston Patriot—and for a wonder, that is what Bachelder has been more or less of—as to be always of the opinion which they entertain at the moment of a crisis, though his policy exists only in the days and act. How long would ample King of England have dared to keep a prisoner in the Tower after the House of Commons had justified an appeal and given full force and effect to the act for which the man was committed? Would two years' labor have elapsed, six or one, before he would have ordered his attorney-general to enter a nolle prosequi, and dismiss President Pierce the same power to do his dirty work? But, if President Pierce pretends that such considerations do not apply here and that the law, as the statute reads, must take its course but says its complete work, why does he not cause the arrest of the escaped Governor Reeder, who was indicted in the same manner, and for a similar crime, as Governor Robinson, and this, following the example of every State and Territorial Executive, and Governor Reeder, takes no steps in the matter? Why then, I demand this great clamor for the authority of the hopeless government of the territory looks to us by the President Governor Reeder? Why does he not attempt? He who is a Law-Landlord of the Sunkists, why he does not do so in this instance?

President Pierce, in this whole Kansas business, when in his of the hardest of scoundrels of the lowest of shams. When there is no principle there is no substance, and when there is no substance there is no soul. To sound him in any case is only to see what manner of stone he may give out. But let the Depository in—N. Y. Courier.

Cause Why.—The N. Y. Mirror has an article on the political condition of New England, in which the following comparable woman of the Whig party campaign:

"All is free and easy in Yankeedom at the present moment. The Democratic party is in a state of 'masterly inactivity' until the whirling Engine in November, shall dash the impotent impediment into powder. When great principles are at stake, involving the welfare and the perpetuity of the Union, indifference is a crime, and inactivity is treason. In the whig districts of Vermont there were but two votes in the Democratic party, who could have regarded the great struggle between England and America with the 'masterly inactivity' of the Democracy, who have not abandoned fighting with the hearty would have been denounced as an enemy to the fathers of liberty, and unfit for the blessings of freedom."

The Milwaukee Democrat makes the following statement:

"We state upon the authority of John C. Fremont himself, that he never owned a slave, and was always opposed to the practice of holding slaves, and received easily in his never to be implicated in the business of buying, selling or holding men and women as chattels. This we feel fully justified in saying of both John C. Fremont and his accomplished lady."

Indiana Mass Meeting in Indianapolis.—The largest Mass Meeting ever convened in the State was held at Indianapolis on the 15th.—Trains of cars came in laden down from every direction. One train, drawn by three locomotives, had 76 cars. Thousands came, besides, in wagons—drawn by from 2 to 22 horses.—The Banners were innumerable; and a monster Ball, during which was delivered the grand address, lasted from 10 o'clock A. M. to 4 P. M. More than 30,000 were on the ground. Three speakers' stands were erected.

"I am but a poor American Volunteer," said a speaker, some days since to a gentleman of New York brief, short, when taste suggests language in a song of its. If there were words with flame for the cause of Liberty and burning power, they are the sacred language of the natural brother's children with upraised hands. They all not enough in it. Therefore I will not harm the sacred language of the Bible by using it in a song. I will only say that I am a poor American Volunteer, and will do my duty."

Commencement.—The Commencement exercises of Waterville College will commence on Sunday next, with the Baccalaureate Sermon by President Champlin. On Monday evening the Junior Exhibition will be held. On Tuesday the Annual Meeting of the Trustees and Overseers will be held, and the Commencement Exercises will be held on Wednesday.

The Trial Trip of the First Locomotive.

Major Horatio Allen, the Engineer of New York and Erie Railroad, in a speech made during the recent festival occasion, gave the following account of the first trip made by a locomotive on this continent:

"When was it, Whoshaw it?" And who awakened its energies and directed its movements? It was in the year 1829, on the banks of Lake Lackawaxen, at the commencement of the railroad, connecting the canal of the Delaware and Hudson Canal company with their coal mines—and he who addresses you was the only person on that locomotive. The circumstance which led to my being alone on the engine were these: The road had been built in the summer, the embankments of hemlock timber and of large dimensions, notched on each end for spans. The timber had crushed and the rest from exposure to the sun. After a hundred feet of straight line the road crosses the Lackawaxen, C E on trestle work about 30 feet high with curve of 350 to 400 feet radius. The impression was very general at this time among workmen that the first break would be on the road of it would be: the track at the curve and plunge into the creek. My ready with apprehensions as that it was too slow to consider the probability of such occurrence. There was neither coal nor fuel to make a train of any strength, which had been brought from a great expense; but that it was necessary that more than one should be tried on the line, that I would face the first risk, and the rest would soon follow. I placed my hand upon the throttle valve and was undecided whether I would move slowly on with a fair degree of speed, but knowing that the road would be safe, and give me the full confidence of the public, I turned on with considerable velocity, passed the ordeal of the creek safely, and was soon out of sight of the shears at the west embankment. At the end of two or three miles, I reversed the engine and returned, without accident to its place of starting, having thus made the first locomotive trip by locomotive on the Western Hemisphere."

Comfortable.—Mr. Wm. Bowen, of Cincinnati, has been confined to his bed for the last seven years with rheumatism, and has been unable to move himself in bed. He has been under the care of the best physicians in the city, and has tried all the remedies recommended for rheumatism, but without any relief. Cautious.—Warsaw, Nor is the gentleman who solutions earth than he are. Place diameter a bell glass with twice its weight of lime, it gradually dries and clears, and there remains in for a year, instead of three, of perfectly dry earth under the glass. Of a pinner o Paris stone, weighing five pounds, about shavings good, poured in of dried water. Even the premises up in about a cause of flint and water, combine in this proportion of nine grains of the cranky ingredient to one of the fluid. Of sake of clay land, a foot deep, weighing about one thousand two hundred tons, are near four hundred tons are water; and even of the grandmother and chains with which the globe is ribbed, many millions of tons are daily sucked into earth.

Water had once existed around us to the extent now under conditions which escape the notice of survey observers. When the dew bath of the dry soldier one hundred pounds each of skin, carbonate of soda, and soap, to obtain in exchange for the money, no less than seventy-five pounds of water in the first lot, sixty-four pounds in the second, and a variable quantity, sometimes amounting to seventy-three and a no pounds in the third. Even the transparent air we breathe contains, in ordinary weather, about five grains of water diffused through each cubic foot of its bulk, and this rarified water wets the lime or opal in which it is absorbed.

The following translation from the Persian of Hafiz, by Sir William Jones, is one of the happiest epigrams in the English language:

On parent's knee a naked, new born child,
Weeping thou sat'st while all around thee smiled.
So live, that sinking to thy last, long sleep,
Thou may'st smile while all around thee weep.

Poor Teddy's Affliction.

Oh, have ye seen my little Ted?
Good folks, if you've, you'll see
Well-dressed all since the morn,
And his hair all combed and curled,
Where'd the Tiny gone.

Oh, know dost, is the Tiny little Ted?
The dimpled black eye say?
Oh no, he's not gone away.
He's only gone up-stairs.

They say that he's dead—my darling Ted!
With the cruel, cruel word!
For, ragged, all the week, and dirty
His body would be buried.

Poor Teddy went from home one day,
Unwashed as he were,
With his face begrimed and grimed,
Worse inclinedly.

At length they close of day, he was
The dimple of the stream—
His sweet drowned, by like Pharaoh
And by Death's relentless.

He could not bear upon the flood
That raised an uproar with
Ah, cruel, cruel Sea—my darling Ted!
That we would see my child.

He drew the baby to the land,
He hugged it to his heart,
As if to say as did the dead
Poor little boy, depart.

He'd was a sight more pitiful,
A form more full of woe,
That now, as I to him bend,
That through his sorrow know.

THE DAILY WHIG AND COURIER

Congressional.

WASHINGTON, 22d.

SENATE.—The Senate adopted a resolution of inquiry as to the extent to which coal may be used for wood, stone and brick in public buildings.

Mr. Smith introduced a bill proposing additional appropriations of Congress, instead of $1,000 per day, for rebuilding the present Capitol.

Mr. Bell spoke in favor of the action of the House on the 18th August.

The bill for the improvement of the Harbor of Milwaukie, was passed by 24 against 13.

The bill for the constitutionality and appropriations for such purposes was taken up, the question being on the continuing the improvement of the Harbor of Kenosha, Wisconsin, but without coming to a decision, the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE.—The House passed the Senate Resolution, with the amendment, fixing the 18th of August as the close of the Session—yeas 123, nays 43.

Mr. Chapman, the sitting delegate from Nebraska, and Mr. Bennett, the sitting delegate from Kansas, were sworn as to their right to their seats as members of the Committee on Elections.

The resolution of the Committee on Elections declaring Chapman not elected, was then taken up and decided against him. Adjourned.

Washington Matters.

WASHINGTON, 22d.

Francis P. Treadwell, of New York, yesterday made a speech at that he had reason to believe that a challenge to fight a duel had passed between McClernand and Mr. Bridgeman, of Massachusetts, in consequence of the peace of the latter as a member of Congress. He therefore moved that the papers be referred and put under the control of the Committee on Public Buildings and Grounds, with instructions to report to the House on the 3d Monday in December next, the general Books, that all matters be finally arranged by their action, and that the correspondence will appear in order.

The Packet Steamer, from New York, arrived at Norfolk this morning, bringing the inspection officers of the Government and Congress.

Steamship Penna.

The steamship Penna, Capt. Hudson, left Philadelphia at 10 A. M. on the 19th inst., having on board 100 passengers and a large amount of freight, and arrived at Liverpool on the morning of the 20th inst.
